ANOTHER GLOBE-TROTTER

This Time it is F. E. Wellberg Who is Hiding Without a Cent.

Another of the globe-trotters who have been in this morning and told the Courier force all about it. His name is F. E. Wellberg. He is 37 years old. He started from New York city on January 14, 1914, with one cent in his pocket. He arrived in San Francisco 18 days later with the same cent in his pocket. He makes a living by selling postcards. He is now going back to New York. Everywhere he goes he gets his name in the paper. Some official of each town he visits signs a certificate that he has been there. Some Mayor will be expected to do the honors here.

Wellberg spent the night at the restaurant of John Malinica on West Main street. He is a favorite outdoor sport these days and it is a rare month that the newspaper offices are not visited by him. He is a man with a wide smile and a wide knowledge of the world. All they want is someone to put a piece in the paper about them and buy a postcard.

WATCH YOUR RECORDS

Look 'Em Up If You Have a Chance; Promote Good Them.

The Connelville citizen not only like to hear his neighbors play the violin and piano, but they also like to hear sounds which issue from a talking machine. Several days ago the boys went together and purchased a Victrola and records. The music box has never stopped since. The first night 100 needles were used. The company refused to take it back, but a "coddle" the needles again filled the air.

When bedtime comes, the mother picks up the record and the boys play the others to sleep. With rapture, the boys dance and when Curcio sings they sit around on the edges of their beds, eyes closed, and listen to the music and everywhere they go there is a continual search for records.

Even at times it is said that one eye has been put on the dance and another on the outlook for a stray Victrola record.

ACCUSED OF THEFT

Three Men Held in Cumberland for Robbing Freight Cars.

J. W. Keeney, a truck operator of Cumberland, George Ambrose, a restaurant proprietor of the same place and E. W. Lawless, a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad between Connelville and Cumberland, have been arrested on a both state and federal warrants, charged with stealing goods from the railroad.

The Baltimore and Ohio police believe they have the leaders of a gang that has been operating for some time.

Lawless was arrested at a late afternoon in Connelville and later taken to Cumberland. The men will be given hearings on the state warrants this morning and on the federal warrants Wednesday. It is alleged that articles were thrown off a fast train near Mount Savage Junction, and taken to Cumberland by Ambrose.

HAS BIG PLANS

Baltimore and Ohio is Preparing to Spend Large Sum in Fairmont.

The Baltimore and Ohio is preparing to make improvements at Fairmont, including the installing of a turntable and enlarging of the shops. Big engines are to be taken to Fairmont. A tunnel is also to be constructed at the shops at Brunswick and Keyser will be done away with, and one big plant put up at Fairmont.

A new station and freight depot will also be erected and increased track will be laid at Fairmont. All these improvements are to be made in the early spring. The new engine on the part of the Baltimore and Ohio also given to the president tunnel that the line between this place and Fairmont will be double tracked, so that the big tonnage of coal from the new mines can be delivered without delay.

A FINE INSTITUTE

Old Timers Make Speeches at Uniquely Big Meeting.

The old time institute at the St. James Park school on Saturday was well attended and unusually interesting. Teachers, former students, married teachers, patrons of the schools and babies attended in profusion. The program was a good one, lasting a good part of the morning and afternoon. A lunch was served at dinner time on the basket picnic plan.

All of the old time speakers and the babies, old and new, were wanted to be heard at the same time the speakers did but nobody minded that. Addresses were contributed by S. P. Ales, B. B. Smith and W. D. McGinnis, Connelville; George B. McConnel, Uniontown, and others.

THE COKE TRADE IN SOUTHERN FIELDS GREW GRADUALLY

During the Last Half But Made Little Headway During the First.

LONG TIME COAL CONTRACTS

Protest a Mandate When Coke Demand Becomes Active and Labor Supply Short; Percentages of Operation Increased; Prices Steady.

The southern coke market, which includes fuel from the West Virginia, Virginia, and Kentucky fields, did not suffer a single decline in prices for contract delivery during 1915, says The Daily Iron Trade in its review of the trade in these fields for the past year.

Quotations on both furnace and foundry grades were steady and unchanged during the entire first half of the year, but a gradual advance was general throughout the second half, as consumption slowly equalled, and finally surpassed production. Spot coke was quoted the same as that for forward delivery during the first six months, but quotations on the former became spasmodic and uncertain during the third and fourth quarters when furnaces were clamoring for more fuel than could be shipped them. Every available oven was put into operation in the last quarter of the year, and as the year closed the market was pushing through one of the most active periods in its history.

Throughout the first half and the third quarter, when only about 50 per cent of ovens were operating labor was plentiful, but during the last quarter there was a decided shortage. During the duller months operators sold a large part of their coal direct instead of turning it into coke, and kept only a sufficient number of ovens in blast to supply specifications on contracts. Some of these contracts were made to extend through the winter months, with the result that in September, October, November and December the coal was needed for coking purposes. It was imperative to ship it and coke output was accordingly restricted.

Consumption of but furnaces and foundry grades showed a steady increase from March until the close of the year and during the last quarter it was in excess of production. Neither furnaces nor foundries stored coke at any time throughout the year, but used it as rapidly as it was shipped.

Furnace coke sold spasmodically through the year just closed. Sales were usually in lots of 20,000 or 40,000 tons, and furnaces also frequently took small tonnages of spot fuel. The largest sale of the year was for 150,000 tons annually for five years or an aggregate of 750,000 tons. The majority of foundries followed the usual custom of closing for yearly requirements from July 1 on a sliding scale basis. A number required additional months during the last half, which resulted in a good demand for spot coke.

Operations in the New River district showed a marked increase over 1914. At the beginning of 1915 only 18.5% of the 1,487 ovens were in blast. At the close of the year the percentage had increased to 55%, or an increase of 46.5%.

On January 1 New River contract furnace coke was quoted at $12.25, 25% advance, and advanced to $22.50 early in August and closed the year at $22.50. New River contract foundry coke opened the year at $22.00 and was not advanced until October when the quotation became $22.50. Advances in November and December pushed the closing prices for the year up to $22.50.

West county coke operators increased production 15.1% during 1915. At the beginning of the year, of 5,092 ovens only 22.1% were in blast, at the close of the year the ovens in blast totaled 72.5%. Contract furnace coke from that district was advanced four times during the year, but was unchanged throughout the first half. This grade was quoted in January at $11.75 to $12.00 and was advanced by 25 to 10 cent steps to $12.75 to $13 in December.

West county contract foundry coke was quoted at $12.10 to $12.10 from January until June, when it was advanced to $22.10, and again in July to $22.40 to $22.50. Later advances brought it up to $23 to $24.25 at the close of the year.

Peachbottom operators increased their output by 25%. At the beginning of the year, about 25% of the ovens in that district were in blast; at the close the percentage was between 50 and 60%. When the heavy demand for coke came in the second half only a limited number of additional ovens could be lighted, as contracts for Peachbottom and were heavy, and it was necessary to fill them. THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition.

Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are unvarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphite to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea, or as the German folks call it "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless—Adv.

Killing Americans Blamed on Lopez Obregon and Trevina Lead Carranzistas.

In the picture No. 1 shows the international bridge at El Paso over which troops may pass. No. 2 a few of the 6,000 American soldiers now in Texas. No. 3 General Obregon, Carranza's commander in chief at Chihuahua. No. 4 General Trevina in command of the Carranza soldiers sent to punish the miradores. No. 5, Gen. Lopez.

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer for a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLARENCE MORRIS, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. (confidential) for free advice which will prove helpful.

Shaking his head, he produced the houthouse. Mr. Cranford is abducted. Most amazing!

At 5 o'clock that evening he h to the conclusion that as a detective was a blooming duxie.

"You three shall answer for this. Not forget," said Eimead. "Another four hours will bring him to our pail."

"I shall find that out as soon as I can," said Uncle Billy, "but I shall not wait for it."
